

Toast to the Bride

1. Noun
2. Verb Ending In Ing
3. Location
4. Noun
5. Verb
6. Adjective
7. Noun

Toast to the Bride

First of all, I want to say thank you so, so, so much for asking me to share in this special day. I can't tell you how much it means to me. You look beautiful Kathy!

I remember when we first met, years ago. We were in grade one, it was the first day of grade one actually. I was crying because I dropped my _____Noun_____ all over the floor. You helped me clean it up and then you let me have your pudding. You've always been that kind of person, so giving and kind! We've been through all sorts of fun together... all those hours of _____Verb ending in ing_____ lessons at the Warehouse, our girls'; trip to _____Location_____ York, the time you punched that guy in the face for grabbing my _____Noun_____. Good times!

I'm so lucky to have you as a friend!

When you first told me about Bill, I have to admit I had my doubts. Knocking a whole shelf of pudding mix on you at Superstore didn't seem like a very auspicious beginning! But now that I know Bill I can see what you love about him. I've never seen you happier!

I hope that for the rest of your lives you continue to make each other _____Verb_____ every day. I just know that you'll create many, many _____Adjective_____ _____Noun_____ together! Kathy, I'm so glad that you've found your someone special. I love you!

To

Kathy!