Why I can't play Grand Chase.

Dear _____^{First name} who is (most likely) an avid fan of mine,

I am writing to you today with great frustration because of the _____^{Negative word starting with f} up things that are currently happening on the Grand Chase servers. You see, as simple as you would think it'd be to hop on Grand Chase and play an excellent match of PvP with other knowledgeable _____^{Noun} it is simply not possible at the moment. No, not because everybody is bad, that's an issue for another mad lib. The problem at the moment is that at least 60% of the time, maybe even more (Probably more, I am way too _____^{Good adjective such as nice or cool} / _____^{Foreiving adjective such as foreiving} I cannot see the enemy player and the enemy player cannot see me. This always results in a waiting contest to see which of us is more manly. Although I always win (for obvious reasons ...) I'd much rather win in a test of skill than manliness, as I have nothing to prove in the manliness department ( Let's be honest, I am _____^{Verb ending in ing} with it.) This is an issue for me and other players as well, as although they're obviously going to take a loss regardless, I'm sure they'd much rather do so actually getting 3-0'd rather than having to leave. I love Grand Chase and I would love to be able to play it again. As I have no idea how complicated this problem may be to solve, I will give you guys a week or so to fix the servers. If they're not fixed by then, I will most likely not play a day or two after you fix them to show my _____^{Noun}. However, don't worry about it too much because I'll _____^{Adjective} boot up Grand Chase eventually because the game to me. I will sometimes be asleep when I hear this tender, somewhat erotic voice calling to me _____ Writer of _____ this madlib _____ weeee neeed youuuu."; And honestly I cannot help but come back to the game. It's also freaks me out because the voice is none other than my own. Well, that's about all I have to say at the moment. Please try your hardest to fix the servers as they are literally IMPOSSIBLE to play on at the moment.
