Taylor, the King of the Stupids

It was a _____ evening here in England. The night was _____ the crickets were _____ . Everyone was _____ except for one young lad named Taylor, who never listened to anyone. When his _____ asked him to get ready for school, he would _____ in his closet and _____ to show tunes. When his teachers asked him a question, he would run outside, and _____ in a tree like Tarzan. Taylor was hopelessly stupid. But of course, he was given 3 wishes to make his life better. These three wishes were granted by a magical sorcerer named _____. She shared the rent with his parents. The boy's first wish was to have a pack of bubble gum. Nobody knew why he wanted a pack of bubble gum, for they were only 1 pound a piece. Well, the sorcerer gave him his first wish, but that didn't make the boy any happier. So, his second wish was wasted on socks. He wished for a _____ pair of ankle socks. The boy already owned about _____ pairs of socks, but once again, nobody knew why he wasted another wish on his _____ pair of socks. Now, right before Taylor was about to make his 3d wish, _____ said that he could give his wish to someone who wasn't going to waste it on anything stupid. Taylor took this offer, and decided to give it to Robert, the richest man in all of _____ . Now, this was probably the stupidest thing that Taylor could have ever done, but what was done could not be changed. At the end, Robert wished for more money, and became a trillion and 1 air. The end.
