The streets are sometimes a little Adjective to navigate, and there's always a risk of hitting one of the many pedestrians! Today, I left my house an hour before I had class, giving myself plenty of time to get to school. I guess everyone else had the same idea - the traffic was Adjective I had to park in the Plains Road lot, and my class was all the way at the top of campus in Swan! I didn't want to Verb all the way there, so I decided I'd wait for the RIPTA to come along. I waited almost Number minutes for the bus, but I was running late at that point and didn't think I'd make it to class on time if I waited any longer. I decided to Verb up the hill. Just when I thought my morning couldn't get any worse, it started raining, and I didn't have my umbrella. By the time I got to class, I was soaked, but at least I got there on time.
