

The monsters (not scary)

1. Name Of A Person
2. Name Of A Person
3. First Name
4. First Name
5. Conjunction
6. Animal
7. Event
8. Animal
9. Animal
10. Animal
11. Name Of A Person
12. Proper Noun
13. Proper Noun
14. Preposition
15. Year
16. Name Of A Person
17. Event
18. Article
19. Verb
20. Event
21. Animal
22. Animal
23. Verb Ending In Ing

24. Article
25. Verb
26. Animal
27. Article
28. Noun
29. Pronoun
30. Proper Noun Plural
31. Year
32. Noun
33. Proper Noun
34. Verb
35. Number
36. Noun
37. Adjective
38. Adverb
39. Proper Noun Plural
40. Verb
41. Noun
42. Verb Ending In Ing
43. Past Tense Verb
44. Year
45. Past Tense Verb
46. Proper Noun Plural
47. Name Of A Person
48. Verb Ending In Ing

49. Article
50. Location
51. Year
52. First Name
53. Pronoun
54. Animal
55. Preposition
56. Location
57. Location
58. Plural Noun
59. Plural Noun
60. Plural Noun
61. Proper Noun Plural
62. Year
63. Proper Noun Plural
64. Verb
65. Verb
66. First Name

The monsters (not scary)

Written by _____Name of a person _____Name of a person This story was written for monster loving, hot wheel driving James Werner. James howâ??s it going dude. I hope you enjoy the story.

Illustration by _____First name Kim

Grown-ups will tell you that monsters _____First name exist. _____Conjunction try to convince you that the little bumps in the night are just your imagination. But grown-ups _____Animal always tell the _____Event is it they just _____Animal remember what _____Animal like to be a kid? Whatever the reason, little James Werner knew that something _____Animal right in his room. In fact, something was definitely wrong! Too often shadows danced in the doorways of his dim lit room. Creaks and cracks echoed when no one was around. And occasionally, he saw them. _____Name of a person Dad! there are tiny monsters in my _____Proper noun _____Proper noun of course every hideous horror vanished as mom and dad walked through the door. _____Preposition to sleep _____Year his mother would say _____Name of a person just your _____Event But hey! could you sleep if monsters were parading around your room at night? It always started with tiny whispers wondering through the air. Followed by footsteps under the bed then everywhere. The closet door would creek, And when the clock struck 12, Tiny monsters began to crawl out. Poor James _____Article had a good nights sleep in a month! And frightful fear was _____Verb brewing into a stew of bitter rage.

_____Event must

_____^{Animal} He thought, _____^{Animal} dad and mom _____^{Verb ending in ing} going to help me then _____^{Article} have to take _____^{Verb} into my own _____^{Animal} And into his own hands he did. James was going on _____^{Article} attack, a tennis racket attack. It was a warm summer night, James finished brushing his teeth and kissed his parents goodnight. _____^{Noun} let the bed-bugs _____^{Pronoun} his father said.
 Quietly James _____^{Proper noun plural} in his bed with the covers over his head. His hand gripped the racket as the clock _____^{Year}. The clock struck midnight. _____^{Noun} _____^{Proper noun} Bare feet hit the cold floor.
 The moons light flickered off his twirling racket. _____^{Verb} is my _____^{Number} James said and the monster whacking began. Creepy crawlers and foul fiends thudded as they hit the wall. Ticks and clicks from tiny toes and feet scattered all about. And gruesome voices hollered in the night _____^{Noun} _____^{Adjective} _____^{Adverb} _____^{Proper noun plural} James had transformed into a twirling tornado of terror; _____^{Verb} his room of these nasty creatures of the night. And then he heard it. There it was again, and again. It was all around, the sound _____^{Noun} crying. The monsters were crying. _____^{Verb ending in ing} _____^{Past tense verb} everyone hurt and despise _____^{Year} a purple monster cried. _____^{Past tense verb} have done nothing _____^{Proper} _____^{noun plural} bawled a one-eyed beast. _____^{Name of a person} _____^{Verb ending in ing} _____^{Article} we want is to peacefully march _____^{Location} our Midnight _____^{Year} _____^{First name} lowered his racket and asked, _____^{Pronoun} are not bad _____^{Animal} _____^{Preposition} *sniff *sniff Bad monsters are rare and scare only the _____^{Location}. You are a very good child which is why we thought it safe to have our Midnight Parade here. _____^{Location} is a midnight _____^{Plural noun} Why _____^{Plural noun} what we tiny monsters live for!
 We gather in a line, and when the clock strikes 12, _____^{Plural noun} march and clap and have a monster-ific time!

Tens Proper noun plural tiny monsters began to step into the Year light. Monsters so ugly that they were actually kind of Proper noun plural Verb get me wrong they were extremely ugly! So James set his racket down, and in his room under the moons shimmering light he marched. He marched until the twinkling stars began to disappear. He marched until his eyes became heavy. Quietly he crawled into bed. The soft sounds of feet pattering to a steady beat danced in his ears until he fell fast asleep. And then they ate him.

The Verb First name

.