

Graduation

1. Proper Noun
2. Event
3. Location
4. Plural Noun
5. Adjective
6. Noun
7. Verb
8. Adjective
9. Noun
10. Verb
11. Noun

Graduation

Graduation is the action of receiving or conferring an academic degree or the associated ceremony. The date of event is often called _____ Proper noun day. The event itself is also called commencement, convocation or _____ Event. In the United States and _____ Location it is also used to refer to the advancement from a primary or secondary school level. Many colleges have different traditions associated with the graduation ceremony, the best-known probably being throwing _____ Plural noun in the air.

A graduation or commencement speech is a _____ Adjective speech given by a _____ Noun or by alumnus of a university to a graduating class and their guests. Common themes of the graduation speech include wishing the graduates well in the real world, cautioning that the world of academe is a special place where they were taught to _____ Verb. Most recently, especially in _____ Adjective institutions, the trend has been to find a celebrity or a _____ Noun to _____ Verb the _____ Noun.