

The Appointment

1. Noun
2. Adjective
3. Location
4. Adjective
5. Past Tense Verb
6. Adverb
7. Noun
8. Location
9. Same Verb (Present)
10. Adverb
11. Same Verb (Present)
12. Adjective
13. Adjective
14. Same Verb (Present)
15. Adjective
16. Noun
17. Location

The Appointment

A sixteen-year-old boy worked on his grandfather's _____^{Noun} farm. One morning he drove a _____^{Adjective} pickup truck into _____^{Location} on an errand. While he was walking along the _____^{Adjective} street, he saw Death. Death _____^{Past tense verb} him. The boy drove the truck back to the farm as _____^{Adverb} as he could. 'Give me your _____^{Noun}, he begged. 'I'll go to _____^{Location}. He'll never _____^{Same verb (present)} me there.' His grandfather gave him the truck and his _____^{noun} and the boy sped away _____^{Adverb}. After he left, his grandfather went into _____^{location} looking for Death. When he found him, he asked, 'Why did you _____^{Same verb (present)} my grandson in such a _____^{Adjective} way? He's only sixteen. He's too _____^{Adjective} to die.' 'I am sorry about that,' said Death. I did not mean to _____^{Same verb (present)} to him. But I felt _____^{Adjective} when I saw him here. You see, I have a _____^{Noun} appointment with him this afternoon-in _____^{Location}.