Al Pacino Interview with Larry King

KING: Al, thanks for coming back.

PACINO: My pleasure.

KING: It's only been _____ Number _____ years.

PACINO: _____ Same number _____ has it?

KING: _____ Same number _____ since you've been here.

PACINO: But who's counting.

KING: By the way, you've got -- getting that AFI Lifetime Achievement, how do they do that? Do they _____ Verb _____ you up?

PACINO: Yes.

KING: You're going to get the Lifetime Achievement Award?

PACINO: They call you up like almost a year before you're going to get it. Of course, you don't believe it's ever going to happen. And then it sort of goes out of your mind. And then as it gets closer, people _____^{Verb}_____ you and you think it's not -- they're kidding. They're not really going to give me that _____^{Noun}_____. And then there it is. And then they have a big show and they give it to you. Fantastic.

KING: When does it air?

When will the public see it?

PACINO:

I believe this month sometime.

KING: What does it say to you when you get -- I mean you're aware in our own skin of all you've attained, right?

I mean, it can't be a surprise to you.

PACINO: Well, it is, actually, because you're always -- you're always looking at what's in front of you, you know, what you're going to be _____ Verb ending in ing next and what you're involved in. So suddenly to have your _____ Adjective life kind of in front of you, it's -- it's an experience I don't recommend. It's scary.

KING: Humbling? PACINO: It's humbling. By far, it's most _____ Adjective yes. It's the opposite. You would think after something like this you would be all full of yourself. You go the other way. Everybody does.

KING: New Yorkers, especially New Yorkers who have made it, tell me they often think back to when they hadn't made it. Do you think back to the poor days?

PACINO: I always think back to those. I'm in those days all the time, you know? I had to hitch coming here. I had to hitch a Noun.

PACINO: No. It's -- you are, though. You're living in that -- you're living in that thing. It's -- because it's your origins. It's what you come out of. And you -- you have a Noun. Any actor will tell you they have an instant memory of it. It's like Verb ending in ing you know, knowing your Social Security number.

KING: Do you think you were born to Verb?

PACINO: Yes, I think so. I don't know if one is born to _____ Same verb _____. I think that I _____ Same verb _____ to be born, really (INAUDIBLE)...

KING: But you took to it well, right?

PACINO: I took to it.

KING: You've said you need some _____ Plural noun _____ if you're an actor. Why?

PACINO: I did?

KING: Yes.

PACINO: When did I say that...

KING: That's a quote they have here.

PACINO: ... back stage?

KING: I don't know. Do you still have _____^{Same plural noun}?

PACINO: Well, yes. Look, I mean, it's right in front of you.

KING: You're _____^{Same plural noun}?

PACINO: I'm insecure right now, yes.
