Walter Schultz's Life of 80 Years

Walter W. Schultz Jr. was born a very long time ago in _____^{Year}_____in Michigan City, Indiana. He is the oldest of identical twins by only a very brief 14 minutes. Walter's loving and supportive parents Walter Sr. and Eve Virginia Schultz were very proud of their handsome, smart and healthy identical twin sons from the moment they were born.

Walter and his _____^{Year}_____brother Willard were very active and intelligent children. Walter and Willard were so smart that they skipped a grade in school. They also were very athletic and played many athletic sports. They always looked out for each other and sometimes they were somewhat mischievous and switched places with each other for football practice, a test in school, or a date. Since these two honest looking young men were so honest a majority of the time, they never seemed to get into any trouble.

Walter graduated from the well-respected Armada Rural Agriculture School at the age of 17. After graduating high school, Walter worked for his father for a few years at the Armada Times and went to Adrian College to get his BA. Meanwhile, Walter's twin brother Willard went to school to become a school teacher. Willard had the better schedule. Willard came home at 3:00 pm after teaching to go golfing and he also golfed all summer long. Walter knew he had to become a school teacher, as well. Walter went to U of D, received his Teaching Certificate and became a school teacher. With all of his education, it would seem Walter would know to stay away from trouble. But, Walter still had mischievous moments, like when he told his mother he was going to another print shop with his father and instead they went to the horse track to bet on the horses.

Walter quickly decided to settle down when he met his beautiful wife, Jean. It was love at first sight. Jean was a very strict Catholic. So, their courtship was fast and efficient. They quickly married and 9 months later had their first child, Gregory. He was quite a handful and it was obvious that he would need many sisters to settle him down. Walter and Jean decided to have their second child and Peggy was born. After having two of his own amazing children, Walter decided teaching other rambunctious kids was not for him. Walter then went to night school at the Detroit College of Law to become an attorney. Walter and Jean also had 3 more beautiful daughters, Lynn, Denise and Patricia. Walter and Jean did _____^{Year}_____marvelous job as parents, as all of their children went to college and none of them went to jail.

Happy 80th birthday Walter!
