

Ice Cream Sunday

1. Year
2. Insect
3. Type Of House
4. Noun
5. Season
6. Present Tense Verb
7. Noun
8. Same Insect As The Beginning
9. Adjective
10. Noun
11. Same Insect As The Beginning
12. Time Of Day
13. Location
14. Location
15. Location
16. Same Insect As The Beginning
17. Noun
18. Same Insect As The Beginning
19. Same Insect As The Beginning
20. Season

Ice Cream Sunday

In the year of our Lord _____^{Year} vast swarms of _____^{Insect} descended upon our _____^{Type of house}.

Twas a judgment upon us, yea certain, for how else could you explain the desecration of our _____^{Noun} the dimming hope of survival for the coming _____^{Season}?

We tried _____^{Present tense verb} methods to destroy the _____^{Noun}: some attempted to burn the _____^{Same insect as the begining} some tried to _____^{Adjective} or bury them. But alas, nothing, not even our _____^{Noun} for deliverance, seemed able to stop the massive destruction of the _____^{Same insect as the begining}.

Then, when we had lost all hope, the _____^{Time of day} sky was filled with the hoarse cry of gulls and the sound of wings. Before our eyes, thousands of gulls descended over the _____^{Location} _____^{Location} _____^{Location} and commenced a great feasting upon the _____^{Same insect as the begining}. Twas a miracle of _____^{Noun}. Every day the gulls came to eat the _____^{Same insect as the begining} until there were no more _____^{Same insect as the begining} left.

Our crops were saved and we survived the following Season.