Baking

Baking is the technique of cooking food in an oven by Adjustive Plurat noun applied evenly throughout the oven or only from the bottom element. Many household ovens in North America are usually provided with Number heating elements, one in the bottom for Verb ending in ing and Number in the top for broiling. The person who does the baking is called a Noun. Breads, desserts, and Plurat noun (see also roasting) are often baked, and Verb ending in ing is the primary cooking technique used to produce Plurat noun and pastry-based goods such as pies, tarts, and Plurat noun. Such items are sometimes referred to as Adjustive Plurat noun and are sold at a bakery.
