

Homer

1. Adjective
2. Adjective
3. Adjective
4. Number
5. Number
6. Number
7. Number
8. Adjective
9. Noun

Homer

Tribute to Homer

Today we honor the great _____ Adjective _____ bard, Homer, to whom we owe praise for the _____ Adjective _____ hours of _____ Adjective _____ reading for students over the centuries. Homer's date and place of birth are all unknown.

Most classical scholars date his birth back to _____ Number _____ B.C. and his death to _____ Number _____ B.C. It is generally agreed upon that his place of birth was a Greek colony on the coast of Asia Minor. Some researchers say he was likely born in _____ Number _____ or _____ Number _____.

Although it is disputed whether the legendary bard ever existed, those who believe in the blind poet say Homer wrote the two _____ Adjective _____ epics of Greek history: the Iliad and the Odyssey. Both epics are considered _____ Noun _____ in Western literature and history.